

---

Expensive electricity costs for 5G base stations

What is the difference between Inexpensive and unexpensive ?Feel free to just provide example sentences.

Expensive????Q& AExpensive????????????217????????????????????

Expensive is about the price of an item. An example would be "That car is expensive!" Expansive is talking about a wide area of something. An example would be "An ...

the cheapest Yeah, there isn't much of a difference in English. "Cheapest" could potentially mean low quality, while "least expensive" could mean the price is low compared to ...

You used "expensive" instead of "less/more expensive" in the second sentence with "than" so that sentence is wrong. Either you use the adjective in its absolute form, like in ...

It's way too expensiveway too expensive is an expression to say something that is very very expensive. a stronger expression of too expensive

Synonym for expensive Expensive is a term that always means something has a high cost or value. While pricey can mean the same thing and is often used interchangeably, it is often a ...

????????????????Cheapest????????least expensive???????????????? ...

Web: <https://ukuthembaitsolutions.co.za>

