Is it better to use 12v or 72v with an inverter

I see "you better do something" as a short spoken form of "you had better do something". "Had" better is an idiom meaning "you should do" and "it would be better if you did".

You can certainly say that, effect3. "Better" can be used as a verb to replace "improve" with the same meaning. But I don't think you have improved the clarity of the ...

Whether you use "the less the better," "the fewer the better" or "the smaller the better" depends on what adjective fits for the noun that you are talking about.

"The better" is a superlative that only applies when comparing two people or things. "The best" is not wrong when comparing just two, but "the better" makes clear that the ...

While "Are you feeling better" refers to someone, let's say, who catches a cold and the next day you raise the question "Are you feeling better now?". You can use "are you feeling ...

You will probably find "better than I" recommended by most grammar books, but "better than me" on the lips of most colloquial speakers.

I've come across some sentences like "Studying the different examples of how the law works helps to better understand the application of justice." or "Studying and discussing ...

It's better to finish your homework prior going to play basketball. It would be better finish your homework prior going to play basketball. are they both correct? If so, what's the ...
